RE: CALATA CORPORATION TO ACQUIRE STAKE IN "KROPS"

Dear Mr. Zuño,

Pursuant to the Revised Disclosure Rules of the Philippine Stock Exchange (the "Exchange"), we formally advise the Exchange that in its meeting held today, the Board of Directors of Calata Corporation (the "Company") approved the plan to go ahead and proceed with its comprehensive study and due diligence to acquire a stake in Black Cell Technology, Inc. ("Black Cell"). Black Cell, a company owned by Mr. Joseph H. Calata, owns the agri-inspired application "Krops" which was formally launched and is currently in full operation since October 2016.

As previously disclosed, Krops is a highly-specialized mobile application specifically developed to provide farmers and customers with an effective and cost-efficient tool in locating buyers and sellers of all agricultural products throughout the Philippines as well as in neighboring countries. Furthermore, Krops enables and promotes direct business dealings between buyers and sellers, thereby improving accessibility and eliminating additional costs charged by brokers and middlemen.

As part of its due diligence procedures, and in order to finally determine the extent and amount of the Company's acquisition of a stake in Black Cell, the Company shall be adapting a business valuation which shall be determined by a Philippine Stock Exchange-accredited appraiser to provide an appropriate basis in coming up with specific details on its intended investment.

The Company undertakes that it shall provide prompt, full and accurate disclosure on the results of the appraisal as well as the next steps that the Company shall be taking in order to proceed and arrive at financial closing.

Very truly yours,

Atty. Jose Marie E. Fabella
